Afternoon Board.—Wheat advanced 4@ CHICAGO, ILL., September 23.—There $18 50 per ion. was sharp excitement in the wheat trade to day. The signs of a bull movement, discerned imperfectly for several days, became very pronounced in the early trading to-day, and so continued throughout the entire session. The increase of 863,000 bushels in the visible supply and the contract was the open.

caused a temporary weakness at the opening and values were one ic lower than at the close yesterday, but good buying at once set in and from that on there was a once set in aud from that on there was a sharp advance in prices until the November option had touched 87½ con the regular board, having sold at the opening at 34½ c. The buying orders were larger from the outside, and there was also a large amount of trading on local account. At the afternoon session, November sold up to 88c, and closed within ½ of outside figures. The receipis continued light at primary points, and it was stated that very little was consigned, notwithstanding the advance in prices which millers were offer. was consigned, notwithstanding the ading for good milling grades. It was cited that $1 was offered for No. 1 Duluth wheat, at 90½c. The foreign situation was also used as a lever for advancing prices, the fall in consols and Russian securities being taken as indicating the possibility of war in the Balkan country. The other grain centers responded to the advance here and encouraged bull operators and parties buying for investment. There was a fair amount of speculation in corn, and prices ruled a shade firmer, influenced by the decrease of nearly 1.000.000 bushels.
